Disrupters at the gate

KEY PROBLEMS

ONLY ONE FROM 1000 USERS
DONATES TO HELP OSS DEVELOPERS

IT'S NEARLY IMPOSSIBLE FOR INVESTORS TO ASSESS FINANCIAL PERSPECTIVES OF MOST OS PROJECTS

COMPANIES STRUGGLE TO CUSTOMIZE AND INTEGRATE OSS

DEVELOPERS USUALLY WORK ON OSS IN SPARE TIME AND MOTIVATED SOLELY BY NON-MONETARY REASONS

WHILE OPEN SOURCE IS STILL IN SEARCH OF WORKABLE MONETIZATION MODEL...

Developers can't commit enough time to their projects, since donation stream is so unpredictable

Potential IT champions are invisible for investors

Companies who choose OSS struggle without sufficient support and customization

Middlemen get up to 90 cents from each dollar companies spent on software development
